

POSITION PROFILE

Organization: Washington State Farmworker Housing Trust

Position Title: Website Volunteer

Location: Seattle, Washington

Reports to: Director of Development

Position Summary

The Washington State Farmworker Housing Trust (the Trust) is a nonprofit organization that works to ensure safe, affordable housing for farmworkers – providing homes for families, helping growers, and supporting rural communities across Washington.

The Trust is seeking a Website Volunteer interested in improving the lives of working people by contributing your tech talent to our social justice charitable organization. Our website was designed using Dreamweaver. We are capable of making some small, regular updates (images, text, etc.) and are interested in finding an individual who can help us with the bigger projects such adding photo slideshows or building new pages.

This is an ongoing opportunity, ideally two to three hours per month but we would welcome any additional time you have to offer! This volunteer position can be done from home. If you prefer, you can work from our office in Seattle on your laptop.

To Apply: Each applicant must submit a résumé by email to: info@farmworkerhousingtrust.org
